Vienna Insurance Group: Strong performance after first three quarters of 2022 Profit before taxes up by around 10%

- Premiums up significantly by 13.6% to EUR 9.5 billion
- Profit (before taxes) increased considerably by around 10% to EUR 413.4 million
- Combined ratio improved slightly to 95.1%

In the midst of major geopolitical and economic challenges, Vienna Insurance Group (VIG) has reported a very positive development for the first three quarters of 2022. All key figures improved again compared to the same period in the previous year.

“Of course, like any company, we are feeling the effects of the current situation, with inflation being the main factor here. The situation is leading to increased claims expenses among other things, thereby weighing on the development of the combined ratio. Nevertheless, we are confident that our strategy of broad diversification will enable us to effectively manage the inflation risk overall. A risk assessment has demonstrated that our largest markets in terms of volume are well positioned due to the measures taken and the current pricing policy. We remain confident in the long-term growth potential of the CEE region, especially as the current forecasts for this region are once again clearly above those for the eurozone.

In view of the current situation and provided that there are no unexpected external factors and volatilities by the end of the year, we expect a premium volume of at least EUR 12 billion for the full year 2022 and profit before taxes that surpasses the previous year's figure of EUR 511 million. In terms of the combined ratio, we are aiming for a value of around 95% despite the challenging environment”, explains Elisabeth Stadler, CEO of Vienna Insurance Group.

Premium growth across all lines of business and segments

A clear upward trend can be seen in the premium volume. The total premium volume increased markedly by 13.6% over the first nine months of 2022, to EUR 9,530 million. This includes the first-time consolidation of the most recently acquired insurance companies in Hungary and Türkiye with premiums of around EUR 291 million, which account for 3.0% of the total premium volume. Even without these companies, premium growth is in the double digits at 10.1%. There has been premium growth across all lines of business and segments of VIG. With the exception of single premium life insurance (+3.1%), all business lines are posting double-digit growth rates (motor third-party liability +21%, motor own damage insurance +13.6%, other property and casualty insurance +15.3%, health insurance +11.8%, regular premium life insurance +10%).

Profit before taxes up by around 10%

At EUR 413.4 million, profit before taxes was around 10% above the value in the previous year. At EUR 479.2 million, the financial result (excluding the result from at-equity consolidated companies) is down 8.4% on the previous year, due primarily to the measures already taken in the first and second quarters of 2022 in connection with exposures to Russian government and corporate bonds. At EUR 302.4 million, net income was 10.1% higher than in the previous year.

Combined ratio slightly improved

At 95.1%, the combined ratio is slightly below the previous year's value (95.2%). However, the pressure of increased average losses, partially due to inflation, is evident in comparison with the first half of the year, when the combined ratio was 94.3%.

VIG Group investments including cash and cash equivalents were EUR 34.1 billion as of 30 September 2022. Earnings per share (annualised) rose from EUR 2.86 to EUR 3.07 in the period under review (+7.3%).
